Federal Financial Aid Loan Information

Most students who file a FAFSA (Free Application for Federal Student Aid) are eligible for the Federal Unsubsidized Stafford Loan of $20,500. The maximum loan amount you can borrow per aid year is $20,500. This loan does not require a credit check. This amount is split evenly between the terms of enrollment. Please see estimates below:

If you are unable to pay the estimated balances out-of-pocket or should you need additional loan funding to cover your costs (tuition or living expenses), the Federal Graduate Plus Loan and Private Loan are additional loan options that do require credit approval. NOTE:

In year 2, when the financial aid year renews, your Federal Stafford Unsubsidized loan will be split equally between summer, fall, winter, and spring, resulting in approximately $5,071 per term after the loan fee.

Reminders:

- Cost/unit is based on the 2020-2021 academic year. The cost/unit is anticipated to increase every fall term.
- If you used a portion of the Federal Stafford unsubsidized loan in a previous institution within the same aid year, you will not receive the full $20,500 Federal Stafford unsubsidized loan at Pepperdine for the remainder of the aid year.

- Books and supplies are not included in this estimate.
- The Federal loan fee will change every year.
- The course sequence above assumes no courses are failed, dropped or withdrawn from, and no leave of absences are taken by the student.
- Scholarships awarded will reduce the student's estimated balance per term.
- All financial aid and transcript requirements must be met before any financial aid can be applied to the student's account.
- Subject to change without notice.
